CARL SANDBURG

POET

VISITED OCTOBER 29, 1935

"MAN WILL NEVER ARRIVE.
MAN WILL BE ALWAYS ON THE WAY."

What exists perpetuates itself.

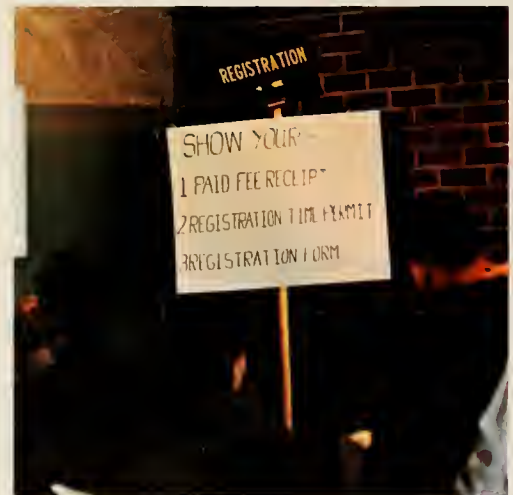

CARL SANDBURG

POET

VISITED OCTOBER 29, 1935

"MAN WILL NEVER ARRIVE, MAN WILL BE ALWAYS ON THE WAY."

The faces are a bit different . . .

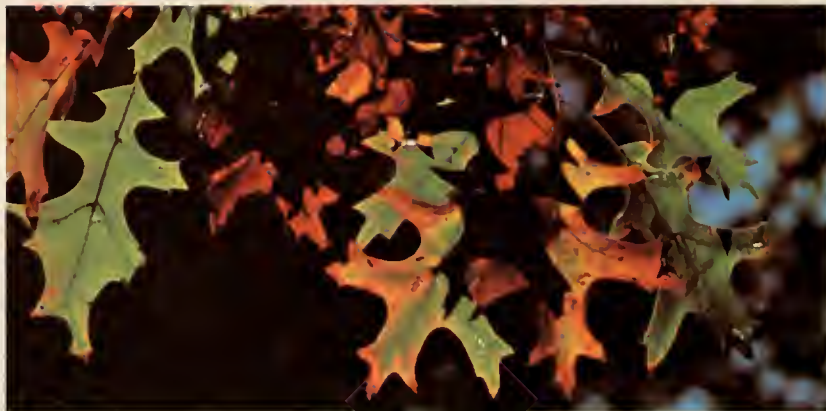

and perhaps these faces see things a bit differently too . . .

but certain things remain the same.

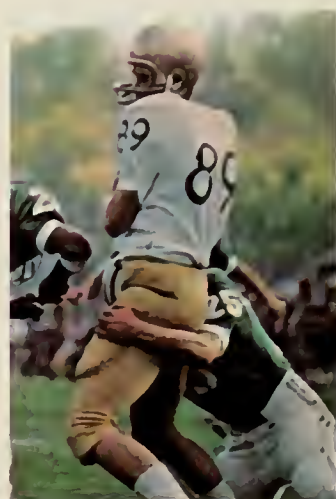

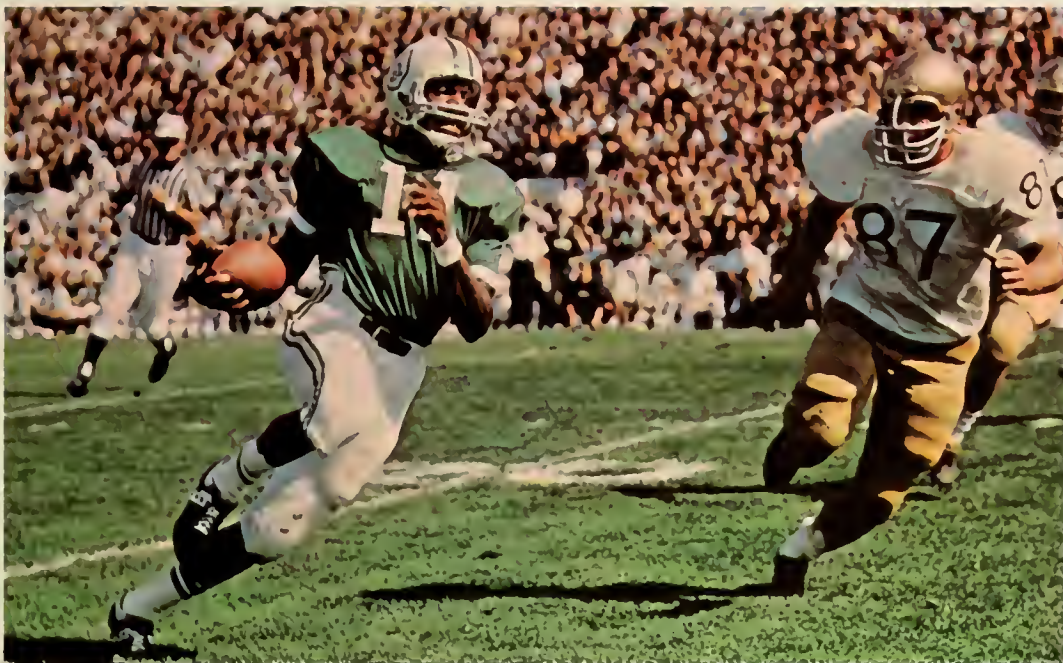

Now comes the autumn ritual, as the mood is set by a unified spirit partaking in a pagan rite.

Then a whistle, and mood becomes action . . .

as the aspirations of thousands mesh with those of a few.

But in the end, we're left grasping a memory.

Homecoming—a dying tradition perhaps . . .

but an important one for those capable of maintaining its validity as each year many return to reassure themselves that they are not yet subservient to time.

Some feel all must exist in a microcosm of notes and rythem.

Man and his music, expression often occult and often misunderstood—even by those who make it . . .

yet with them, the feeling persists that within the cacophony exists harmony.

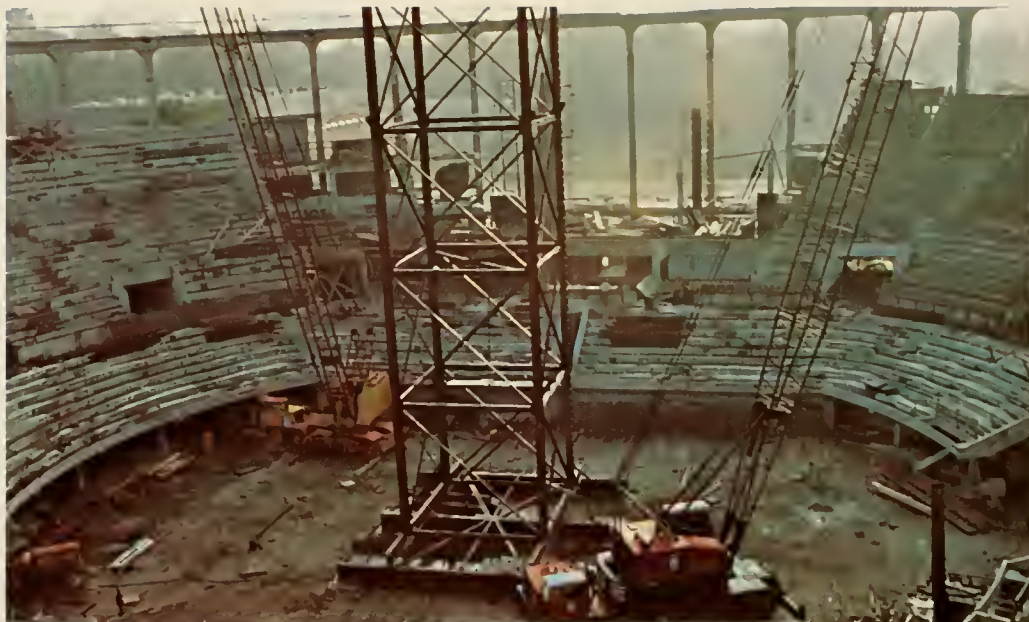

At last a break, and a return to quiet.

Here, what was, is no more

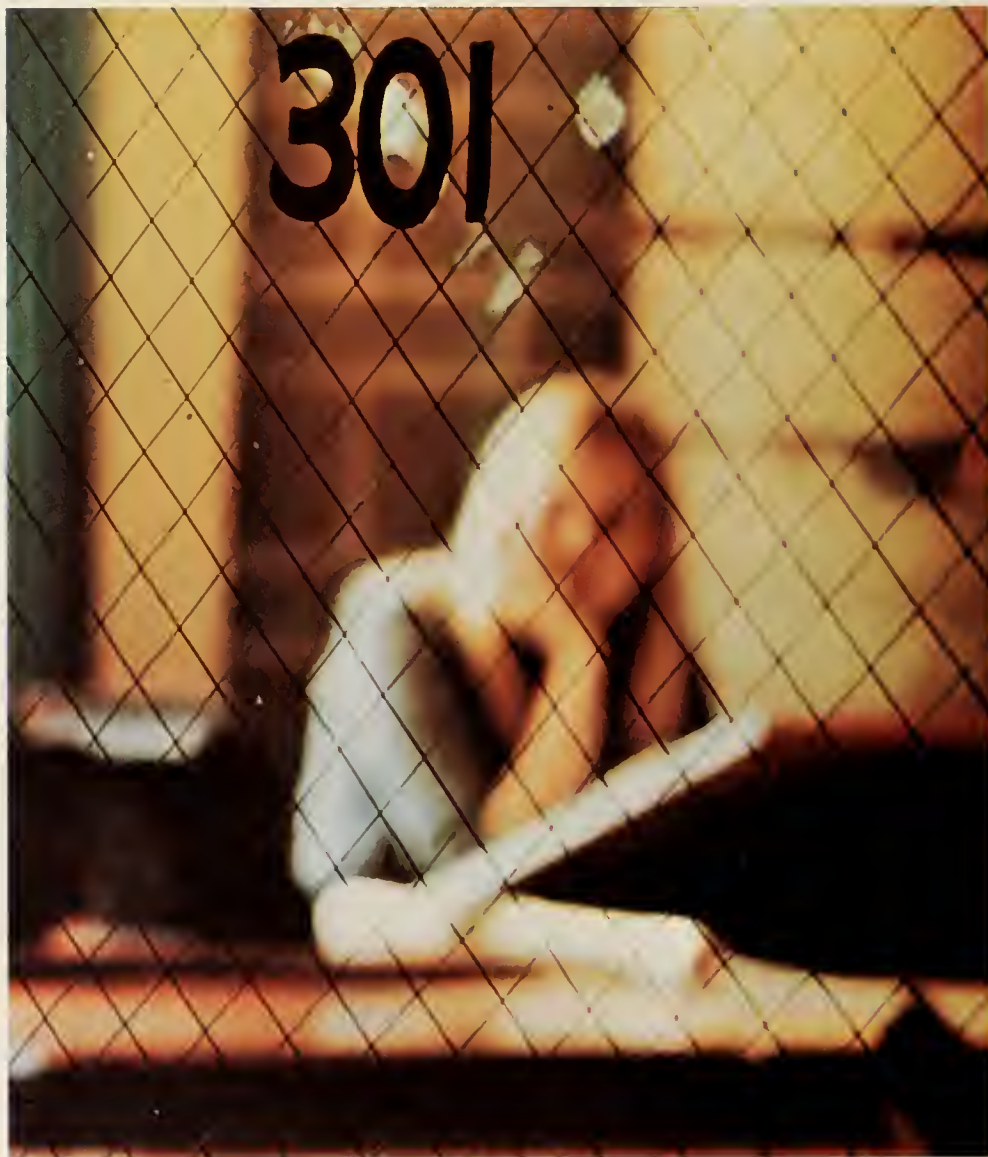

Instead, there is something new—yet it will not remain forever.

The formal environment of education—the looking, the listening, the torture.

The media is the message, and sometimes an evasive one.

Feelings are reflected in the elements . . .

and in the expressions of those involved . . .

as a universal dictum emerges from those faces searching for sanity—pursue knowledge and enjoy life.

Inside, the masses crowd for wholesale excitement . . .

but one's own domain is reserved for oneself.

The target is the establishment as restlessness has become the temper of our times.
In the center can be a war . . .

or the choice of superfluity over flat-chested functionalism.

Sometimes there is a more personal flavor, as success means a better life.

The national pastime is a waiting game . . . with the action simultaneous.

Endurance, speed and strength are all prerequisites.
An Indian game . . . a British one . . . U.S. limbs

A fight against human limitations . . . an attempt to extend them.

Products of the equinox . . . male and female paired . . . spring doesn't lie.

An attempt to proscribe the rumble of Triumphs in favor of other means of travel.

Sunshine liberated feeling . . . release

Participants in the ancient vernal rites.

Inspired mariners and their craft navigate the treacherous Hocking tides.

Race day in Athens . . . Indianapolis-on-the-Green

Soft and warm with feline temperament . . . undercurrents.

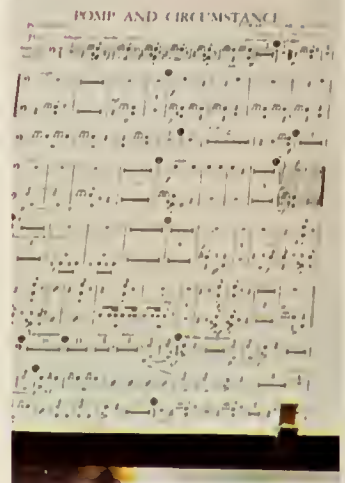

They look . . . pliant . . . they are evasive.

The lectures . . . the labs . . . the people between.

"In America, we don't have confirmations. We have commencements." Meno Lovenstein

Life is educational . . . education should live . . .

CARL SANDBURG

POET

VISITED OCTOBER 29, 1935

"MAN WILL NEVER ARRIVE.
MAN WILL BE ALWAYS ON THE WAY."

This isn't the arrival . . . it's only part of the way

. . . what a hell of a part!

Photo-journalism in a school of 16,000 students involves patience, tact, and rapport.

Months of hard work contribute to the production and success of the 1968 Athena, Ohio University's yearbook.

Challenged by past productions, the staff works diligently to compile a book which would be equally interesting. A student creation, the Athena is completely designed and edited by those interested in this type of activity. Participation in this service organization affords members an opportunity to photograph, write, draw, type or sell. Screenings for paid positions are held every spring. Volunteer staffers are continuously sought to fill various positions.

Whether it be photographing a group in below zero weather, or typing copy from midnight until dawn, each staff member consistently gives of himself, his talents, and his cooperation to assure the smooth-functioning and success of the 1968 Athena.

Beta Theta Pi not only led the fraternity system to Ohio University in 1841, but also marked the first appearance of any fraternity on a state campus. Once again Beta showed a well-balanced social program with weekend teas, parties, and open houses. Academically the Betas remained high above the all-men's average and placed second among fraternities at Ohio. The president and vice president of IFG, and the president of the Senior Class are proud members of Beta Theta Pi, as well. Again, as in past years, the men of this fraternity enjoyed a highly successful year in endeavors both academic and social.

The oldest national women's sorority, Chi Omega was founded in 1895 at Ohio University and the University of Arkansas as well. The Tau Alpha Chapter resides in a pillared home at 10 South College. Chi Omega emphasizes friendship, and welcomes coeds, who meet Panhellenic requirements, into the sorority. Active and successful on campus, the Chi O's recently won first place in Homecoming House Deck competition. Uniting efforts, the girls also achieved first place in the SAE-DEE Hawkins Day Contest. Additions to the mantlepiece include the Miss Sorority and Scholarship trophies. Chi O's proudly claim their positions in Chimes, Mortar Board, Center Program Board, Student Government and other activities.

Kathy, a girl from the Athens Children's Home, has been adopted by the sorority and enjoys slumber parties and dinners at the house with her sorority "sisters." Chi Omega hostesses an annual Art Festival in December, with proceeds given to student art scholarships.

An all-campus barn party in October, teas, and the formal Triad round out the Chi O's active social calendar.

Since 1952, Ohio's local chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha has upheld a reputation of brotherhood and progressiveness which has dated back to 1909. The highlight of the social calendar centered around the "Crescent Sweetheart Formal." Unique is the only word that can describe the Lambda Chis' activities on campus. To promote spirit in this year's migration to Miami, a victory ball was presented to the team after it had been carried cross-country on a bicycle. The annual "Mom's Nap", in which sorority house mothers were kidnapped and ransomed for 10¢ per sister, gave a generous donation to the United Appeal. For the Lambda Chis, the year was successful socially, academically, and serviceably.

Ohio Gamma of Phi Delta Theta is the nineteenth chapter of the national fraternity, being founded in 1868. This year, as in the past, the Phis upheld their tradition and were in the thick of the race for the fraternity All-Sports Trophy. In between intramurals, the men of the "Castle on the Hocking", managed to stage a few of the ever-exciting Phi Delt theme parties. Never lagging in service projects, the brothers of Phi Delta Theta participated in the Blood Drive, the United Appeal Drive, and held their annual Community Cancer Drive this spring. On campus, the Phis pointed out their active participation in student affairs, with many of the brothers holding positions in Student Congress and on Campus Committees.

The "Fiji's" were founded at Ohio University in Sept. 1965 for those students who wanted to establish a fraternity "based upon true brotherhood and excellence in all endeavors." In typical enthusiastic Fiji style, the Fall Quarter opened with a "Purple Garter Party," followed successfully with other theme parties. Not entirely socially-minded, the brothers of Phi Gamma Delta, solicited for the Sheltering Arms Building Fund, participated in the Heart Fund Balloon Sale, and were extremely generous in the United Appeal Drive.

Founded on the concept of brotherhood, scholarship, and activities, the men of Phi Kappa Sigma have demonstrated that these ideals are actively applied and are not just concepts of the mind. No Homecoming is every complete without the Skulls traditional Mumbler's Band. A new addition to football games this season was the victory cannon which thundered out a resounding "boom" after each Bobcat touchdown. Despite all their activities, the brothers of Phi Kappa Sigma still managed to capture the national trophy for having the highest scholastic average among the forty eight chapters located around the country in Phi Kappa Sigma. Socially, the Skulls held their traditional Black and Gold Formal and Turn-About Weekend when Skull sweethearts were permitted to live in the house. Theme parties, teas, and "Ranch" parties rounded out a very successful social life.

A first place Homecoming float and a first place in Sigma Nu Soapbox Derby are two recent accomplishments of Phi Mu Sorority. The annual Phi-Guy Weekend, Christmas Stocking Party, breakfasts, house parties, teas, and Greek Week all serve to reinforce the bond of sisterhood. Phi Mu was founded to contribute to cultural, social, and scholastic development, to create friendships, and to engage in philanthropic projects. The women of Phi Mu Sorority seek to attain these ideals by providing an annual toy cart for Sheltering Arms Hospital, contributing to the U.S.S. Hope, sponsoring a Silver Tea for the Athen's community and planning parties for the area's Children's Home.

$\Phi\Sigma\Delta$

Phi Sigma Delta is a social fraternity built on a tradition and history dating back to its local founding in 1948. A full social life highlighted by Winter Weekend produced enjoyable activities for the brothers. On campus, the brothers held their annual muscular dystrophy drive, sponsored again their ever-popular Little Sis Root Beer Blast, and gave very generously of their time to the United Appeal. When asked what made this year unique for Phi Sigma Delta, the brothers replied in unison, "Howard Perlman and Burt Zucker!"

ΠΒΦ

The Pi Phi's have just moved back into their home at 6 South College after a year of remodeling. Pi Beta Phi is the oldest fraternity for college women and the first sorority founded at Ohio U. A social sorority open to women meeting Pan-Hellenic grade requirements, Pi Beta Phi seeks deep and sincere friendship maintained by working and having fun together. The goal of a Pi Phi is to become a woman whose activities are both intellectual and social. Scholastically, the Phi Pi's maintain a high academic average while participating in many, varied campus activities such as Homecoming, Greek Week and Siglypics.

Existing on campus since 1930, Pi Kappa Alpha has contributed to campus academic and social affairs for almost 40 years. Rallying behind their antique fire engine (complete with dalmation), the "Pikes" showed true college spirit with active participation in Homecoming, Greek Week, and in the Mock Political Assembly. March 1st marked the 100th anniversary of the national founding of Pi Kappa Alpha and the Centennial celebration consisted of special inter-chapter and all-campus events held throughout the week.

1968 finds the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon enjoying the new addition of their red brick structure. Tradition mingles with the new as two well-known white lions guard the entrance and also serve as the object of many sorority pranks. Among the popular events on campus is the annual SAE—DEE Hawkins Day where coeds chase and hopefully catch the guys. Active on campus, the brothers boast participation in everything from football to student government.

Sigma Chi was founded to provide a helping hand of brotherhood for the achievement of purposeful living both in the college community and in the years that follow. This year, as in the past, the Sigs provided campus coeds with a continual barrage of social events including theme parties, teas, open houses, and the ever-popular Sweetheart Formal. The men of Sigma Chi sponsored all-campus events such as the Siglympics and the Sig Caravan of Stars which brought big name entertainment to the University. Special projects included a Christmas party for underprivileged children in the Athens area. They also initiated a service project supporting the "Wallace Village" for children, a center for treatment of minimal brain damage for children. With the traditions behind them, the men of Sigma Chi through a successful year made the unmistakable white cross even more impressive and distinguished.

The purpose of Sigma Kappa Sorority is to unite its members in a bond of sincere friendship for the development of character and the promotion of social and intellectual culture. Any coed with a 2.0 accum. is eligible for membership in the sorority. A special Sigma Kappa gerontology project consists of weekly trips to visit children in Cottage L of the Athens State Hospital. The sorority's national project is the Maine Seacoast Mission and the American Farm School.

Sigma Phi Epsilon became Ohio University's newest addition to the fraternity system this year. Based on a rich tradition dating back to 1901, Sigma Phi Epsilon finds its principles in the development of social, scholastic, leadership characteristics in the college man. Socially, the Sig Ep "Queen of Hearts Weekend" accentuated a year of teas, theme parties, and open houses. On campus the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon showed true spirit with their active participation in several community projects.

Academically and socially, the men who live behind the "Red Door" firmly established themselves on campus this year and showed great promise for the future.

Love, honor, and truth form the basis of Sigma Nu and offer its members an ideal concept to follow throughout their years at Ohio University. On campus the men participate in many worthwhile activities. Homecoming brought theater students and the fraternity together in the project of constructing a float. Every spring finds hopeful co-eds struggling with hammers and nails, while building their entry for the Sigma Nu Soapbox Derby. Sigma Nu promotes scholarship among the men. An emphasis on participation in campus events is evident by the number of Sigma Nu's on committees and planning boards.

"Brotherhood above all other causes" arises as the motto for the Theta Chi's. Recognized as a social fraternity, Theta Chi respects and encourages individualism among its present and perspective members. Their mammoth Saint Bernard, Ralf von Barry, is as much a part of the campus as the fraternity itself. The social calendar is never empty with such events as Dreamgirl Formal, Theta Chi Roast, and the Christmas Formal. There is more to life than social activities and Theta Chi encourages excellence in academic studies through its $2300 Scholarship Fund.

ZTA

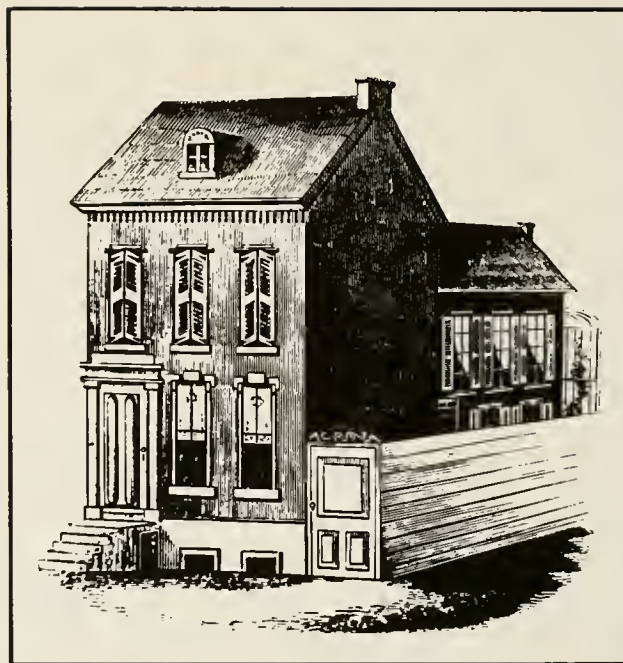

Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, this year, was recognized at the Greek Week Convocation as being "the most all-around improved sorority on campus" and for having the "most improved sorority chapter average." Consistent success in Homecoming and as Yeomen Calendar Girls has made the Zeta pin easily recognized on campus. Open to any girl who meets Panhellenic requirements, Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, through small group associations, seeks to find the means to build long-lasting friendships and enrich personal development in the larger campus setting.

DORMITORIES

grosvenor

An atmosphere of friendship, scholarship, and athletics aptly describes Grosvenor Hall. Recognition goes to the Freshmen who attained the highest freshmen grade average on campus. Working together, the men constructed the famous Grosvenor "Grundy" house decoration. Participation in intramural sports found the men placing third in All Dorm Athletics. Enthusiasm and spirit are consistent qualities as the men compete in the College Bowl and Homecoming activities.

T. Sykes, Treasurer; J. Handley, Social Vice President;
J. Pintaric, President; R. Frasch, Exec. Vice President;
A. Bawman, Secretary.

parks

Unity is the key word as the men of Parks Hall combat everything from opposing intramural teams to the famous spring floods which annually invade the dorm. Emphasizing the importance of scholarship and co-operation, the dorm government works successfully to make Parks an outstanding men's unit. Throughout the year, mixers and theme parties provided the necessary social activities and highlighted the activity calendar.

Shively girls find pleasure by exhibiting kindness to less fortunate people. This year Shively received a trophy for their support in the Sheltering Arms Hospital Drive. In addition, the girls collected gifts for the Children's Home and, also, sent small personal items to Vietnam War Orphans. Christmas found girls decorating their doors for the annual contest. A rooftop party at Rumac brightened the social calendar already filled with mixers and teas.

SHIVELY HALL: OFFICERS—LEFT TO RIGHT: Y. Paska, Secretary; J. Campbell, Treasurer; B. Pitlick, President; K. Swaye, East Green Rep.; E. Chapla, Social Chairman; B. Beseda, Vice President.

Being the smallest dorm on the East Green has its advantages as residents of Johnson Hall laud for friendliness. Newcomers to the campus found a day designated just for them. "Freshman Day" made the girls feel more "at home" and helped them adjust to the new college atmosphere. "Angel-Pixie Week" brightened the quarter system as many "Angels" were pleasantly surprised by gifts from their "Pixies." A Senior Farewell successfully closed the year.

Distinction of being the first South Green dorm belongs to Pickering Hall. Only in its second year of existence, the women can still remember walking to West Green dorms to eat. One of the many advantages of being a new dorm, the women are able to plan and organize dorm functions in view of changing ideas. Emphasis of the dorm council is placed on free expression among residents. A convenient library is the scene of many discussions and plays host to South Green speakers.

Homecoming served as the debut of Howard Hall's Bobkitten who teamed with the Lincoln Bobcat to promote spirit and enthusiasm on campus. Active participants in all events, the girls of Howard entered such activities as Siglympics, SAE-Dee Hawkins Day, and the Sigma Nu Soap Box Derby. This year marked the second year for Howard's open house and mixer.

Gamertsfelder, the largest men's dormitory on the East Green, claims to have "everything" including their own radio station, WGAM. An important aspect to the "Gam Men" is their service to the community. Throughout the past year, spare-time found them engaged in such activities as cleaning the Athens City Pool and sponsoring blood drives. At Easter, men were rewarded by youngster's happy smiles when they hosted a party at the Athens Children's Home. Outdoor movies in the Spring provide entertainment for the men. Teas, mixers, and a Christmas Formal round out the social calendar.

brown

Accustomed to the famous floods of the South Green, the men of Brown Hall rally to the cause with make-shift boats to rescue fair damsels from neighboring dorms. Adjacent to Pickering Hall, Brown is also a newcomer to the long list of dormitories. Through cooperation and companionship, the men further their academic and social development. Intramurals play a major role while offering enjoyment and relaxation. Numerous theme parties add sparkle to the academic year.

BROWN HALL: OFFICERS—
P. Gillette, President.

Dorms at Ohio University display versatility as they easily are switched to accommodate either sex. Davis Hall welcomes men to its realms this year. Formerly housing women students, the men of Davis have the opportunity to set their own traditions, a unique situation experienced by only a few units each year. Residents realize the importance of a well-rounded program and through enthusiasm Davis achieves a fun-filled and active life socially, culturally, and academically. Participation in intramurals helped spark a feeling of unity and provided a relaxing study break.

lakeview #35

Lakeview Manor extends an opportunity to upperclass men to enjoy an atmosphere of convenient living. Small apartment complexes offer privacy to residents and stresses the "home-like" living in contrast to the regular dormitory.

A perennial favorite among women's dorms, Lindley boasts a fine tradition of friendliness. Though a large dorm, officers try to create an atmosphere whereby girls can grow socially, building both honor and character. This year heralds a dynamic change in government structure as Lindley girls recognize the importance of keeping pace with the times and values of Ohio University. To this end, Lindley has unofficially supported bills in Student Congress. Freshmen adapt to campus life easily through advice from their "Big Sisters." To honor moms, the girls give a Mother's Tea during that Spring Weekend.

Luxurious apartment living, describes Hayes Hall, the women's division of Lakeview. A favorable atmosphere enables better scholastic achievement. Envied for their convenience location, the women of Layes are only a few steps away from Lakeview Recreation Center. Social events highlight the academic year. Weekly teas and mixers sponsored by the dorm further friendships on campus.

voigt

Envied for their convenient location on campus, the girls of Voigt Hall live only a few steps from Baker Center or the center of town. Dorm government strives to provide a well-rounded field of activities throughout the year. A philanthropic project, Voigt Easter Egg Hunt, gained instant success. All proceeds were given to the children's home. "No Name Courier" is the newsletter, published quarterly by the girls. In addition to many teas and mixers with various men's units, Voigt sponsored the Winter Formal along with other dorms on the College Green.

tiffin

Predominantly an upperclass dorm, Tiffin girls began another active year with a patio mixer. Known for their spirit, the girls added enthusiasm to many campus activities. Christmas was celebrated in style as Tiffin combined with Gam for their Holiday Dance, a perfect climax for the first quarter. Welcoming parents to the campus kept the girls busy during Mom's and Dad's Weekends.

irvine

Satisfaction pervaded the halls of Irvine as the men proudly displayed their large trophy signifying first place in the Homecoming House Decoration Contest. Irvine consists of small "houses" which afford the men with additional opportunities for leadership and social activities. The name "Irvine" is Scottish in origin, and the theme "Highlanders" has been adopted as the official Irvine Hall Theme. Each house boasts its own Scottish name, plaid, and crest. "The Experiment in Dormitory Living," broadcast on WOUB, was written and produced by the men of Irvine. The program explained the basic objective in university residence and compared it with other colleges.

Sargent Hall was the scene of activity during Father's Weekend, as the men sponsored an all campus Casino. A definite success, the event found fathers competing with students for prizes in a life-like gambling casino. Traditionally a contender for top intramural honors, the men of Sargent, once again, exhibited their desire to win as they captured the all campus golf championship, as well as others. Activities never cease as springtime brings the annual Sargent Hall Weekend, a social climax to the numerous mixers and teas.

"Men and the Ideas," a program of controversial speakers sponsored by Bush Hall, afforded students a chance to hear well-known individuals present viewpoints on current issues. Interesting debates followed the lecture and students were urged to participate. One of the smallest forms on campus, Bush utilizes this aspect by functioning as a closely-knit organization. Desire for academic excellence is exhibited, as the trophy for highest upperclassmen average was recently retired to the dorm. Second place in Homecoming decorations brought satisfaction after many long hours of hard work.

BUSH HALL: OFFICERS—LEFT TO RIGHT: R. McGraw, Secretary; D. Cocco, Sp. Events; G. Romanoff, Treasurer; M. Smith, Corresponding Secretary; S. Steinhilber, Pub. Chrmn.; J. Peebles, Librarian; R. perkins

Each fall some lucky coed is chosen Perkins Hall Freshman Queen. This contest and dance serves to usher in another school year. The men of Perkins Hall seek to make their dorm well-known on campus. Their fellowship and unity enhance its reputation as an outstanding men's unit. Christmas-in-Blue brings a special touch to the happiness of the holiday season as men and their dates gather to celebrate Christmas. An annual Spring Formal climaxes the year in an ideal way.

One of the largest men's dorms on campus, James Hall tackles activities with a never-ending enthusiasm. The year sparkled with countless events which afforded numerous opportunities to participate. Intramural sports, mixers, and "big weekends" kept the men constantly working to uphold their tradition of fine representation. Holiday season sent the men to the Children's Home for a party with the Orphans. James Hall Weekend added a special highlight to the academic year.

Proud to be "one of the smaller" dorms on the West Green, Ryors utilizes this aspect by affording its girls more personal and intimate relations that are possible in a dorm of its size. Freshmen experience their first taste of campus mixers at the annual event sponsored by Ryors to usher in the new academic year. Mother's and Father's Weekends furthered friendships as the girls worked together to assure fun-filled events for parents.

Treudley, the honor dorm at Ohio University, offers a unique experience in living. Girls are looked upon as mature individuals capable of managing their own personal interests in a responsible manner. An upperclass dorm, resident must first submit an application, then be screened for selection. Dorm government is operated strictly by the students; staff officials serve only as advisors. The "no-hours" policy is a highlight of the program. On the social side, Treudley gathers with grad students for the annual Graduate Tea. Treudley Hall Fall and Spring Weekends greatly add to the social calendar.

The men of Lincoln are among the staunchest and loudest, if not the most unique of the Bobcat Boosters. Peop rallies and sports events would be lessened without the famous Lincoln Hall Bobcat, a trademark of school spirit. Homecoming and Lincoln "Beasties" are becoming a combined tradition. The dorm can proudly stake its claim as the most spirited on campus. Lincoln's adequate social schedule reinforces the ideas of being "the fraternity of the East Green." Lincoln Weekend climaxes the many parties and teas.

A popular men's dorm on the East Green, Washington Hall welcomes many freshmen into its ranks each year. Here, officers seek to provide an environment which promotes academics, school spirit, and social functions for the residents. The "Courier," a dorm paper, carries interesting new articles concerning dorm and campus information. For lucky co-eds, the men sponsor the Annual Sweetheart Dance, which honors fortunate women. An all-campus fall mixer directs attention to the large dorm and helps round out the active social calendar.

SPORTS

football

The Bobcats roared into the 1968 football season as they tromped over Marshall College. From that time the gridiron was the scene of grueling practices and hard-fought games which ended in successful co-honors for the MAC Championship. Homecoming brought William and Mary to O. U. A fired-up squad handed the Bobcats a disappointing loss which dampened weekend spirits.

The day was for the Bobcats when wind and rain aided to the victory over the Bowling Green Falcons, the decisive MAC game.

Pride in a team, a coach, and school kept Bobcats searching for victories and entering each game with renewed determination.

For us, it was a year of attempting persuasion-attempting to persuade the administration that the ATHENA billing should be handled through them or at least assisted by them; attempting to persuade the administration that neither the athletic department nor the ATHENA could really afford the sports section and perhaps a slight assistance from the administration would ease the mutual financial pain; attempting to persuade 16,000 Ohio University students that we at the ATHENA were attempting to produce a product that would satisfy the majority (a most necessary duty, we have come to realize). We, obviously have failed quite miserably. We received more detriment than assistance from the administration, with both finances and billing. We were able to convince only 2,500 Ohio University students that we would not step on anyone too much and produce a product for the majority.

As for people to thank, I would, as photo editor, like to thank our advisors Miss Margaret Deppen, Mr. David Smith and Mr. Clarence White who stood behind us despite the fact that there was almost no 1968 ATHENA. Thanks must go to the 2,500 students who gave us almost enough capital to produce the book. Thanks to Dr. James Whalen who had the foresight and concern to tell us, relatively early in the year, that the administration would not be able to assist us. May I also thank Kingsley J. Guy, from Beloit College; Beloit, Wisconsin; who, somewhat naively dropped down to O.U. and found himself writing the copy for the first 64 pages of color. Rick Roseman enlightened the remaining color copy. The ability of these two to verbalize what I chose to say visually was a major reason for the unity in that section. Thanks to my two undergraduate photographers who did their best to produce significant photographs and to my graduate photographers who combined photography with educated experience. Thanks, of course, to the copy, sales and secretarial staffs who worked consistently, despite the fact that their pay was a copy of the 1968 ATHENA.

Final thanks must go to Mr. Ronald Beno who lead me and us through this year. Last year at this time, few had much belief in Mr. Beno's capabilities. Perhaps the job makes the man—I contend that Ron was fooling us all along. Thank you, Ron.

P.S. After being filed through the lines of graduation, standing when I was supposed to, and clapping when I was supposed to, I found that my Photo-Editor, David Wilder, had written down the thoughts that I would have, in the paragraphs above. I thank him most graciously for the work he has done for the 1968 ATHENA above and beyond the responsibilities of his job. Also I would like to thank my Business Manager, Howard Perlman, whose picture in this book is not quite representative of his personality. He did an excellent job of keeping all the facts and figures straight in his head. Finally, a special thanks to the men and women of Wm. J. Keller Publishing Company, who waded with us through all the garbage that had been defacated upon us.

These are the people who have taken the time to see between our lines.

Mock Republican Convention 1968 . . . the streets sounded with enthused campaigners and excited viewers during the convention.

Soul Brother . . .

Maybe it was the quarter system? Maybe it was the administration? Maybe it was the threat of strikes, or just the students of spring?
The white helmets came and camped after the stones were hurled. Everyone talked while newspapers screamed their outrageous accusations. Why didn't anyone listen?

The King is dead! It echoed in microphones; and hearts were horrified throughout the campus, country, and world. Martin Luther King Jr. started a dream, but a bullet couldn't shatter it. Now where will his dream go? We talk about the coup d'etats of South America, and the street riots in Europe, but when will we stop destroying our Kennedys and Luthers. Let us not scatter after the black arm bands have been put away.

Yes, and then there was the flood. The rains came; dams broke, and students stumbled around picking up their blankets and brains while piecing together this Fellini movie with sandbags. But the administration and newspapers didn't publicize the students helping in Nelsonville or see the blank faces being inundated by exams, filth and the nothingness the University quarantined. "Everything was under control," they said.

And here we will all sit.

The Class of 68' beneath the oaks which have shaded us for four years.

Our metamorphosis is now partially complete, we leave with some fear and promise.

Our different feelings for our futures are fused together by the black robes about to be shed.

Dear Alumnus:

Congratulations and welcome to the Ohio University Alumni Association.

You are automatically a member of the Association by virtue of your degree and join the ranks of 43,000 fellow alumni. Our purposes are to provide opportunities to maintain contacts with former classmates; to make new associations with alumni wherever you go; and to establish a close communication with Ohio University after leaving Athens.

We have chapters functioning all over the country in practically every major city. Others are now in the planning stages to provide alumni forums where we have sufficient concentration. We are your organization and wish to serve and help you in your community...wherever it might be.

Our only request is to please keep us informed of your moves, address changes, marriages and births, and changes and promotions in your employment. We will do our best to keep you informed of the growth and happenings at Ohio University.

Our sincerest best wishes for every success.
